ESTELLE CLAYTON.

Miss ESTELLE CLAYTON.—During the latter half of the week the attraction at the theater was Miss Estelle Clayton and company in "A Sad Coquette" and "The Quick or the Dead." The principal part of the attractiveness of these presentations was Miss Clayton in the title role of the first play, and as "Barbara Pomfret" in the latter. Her first appearance on Thursday evening, as "The American Girl Abroad," was witnessed by a good sized audience, which thoroughly appreciated and approved of her delineations of that character. The performance of "The Quick or the Dead" drew large houses, and as the eccentric but beautiful Barbara Miss Clayton was a great success. She was called before the curtain several times between the acts, and was applauded with a frequency and with an enthusiasm that must have been extremely gratifying. She is undoubtedly an artist of eminent abilities, and one of the loveliest women in this country. She may feel assured of a warm reception when she comes to Memphis again, and if she will only give the local public a chance she will doubtless be adopted as one of its greatest favorites. It may not be generally known hereabouts, but Miss Clayton is a young woman of many rare accomplishments, besides those she possesses of a histrionic character. All the music and songs introduced in her plays are composed and written by herself. She is a niece of W. K. Borsford, the celebrated organist and musical composer, and as several others among her family have made names for themselves in the world of music, she has nature's right and title to the genius which she has displayed in this line. Her literary qualifications are shown in the several successful plays which have been produced by her pen, and she is also a regular contributor to a number of leading magazines and newspapers. She has also received high commendation as an artist in oil. Her brush is principally devoted to figure and portrait painting, the most difficult branch of the art. She is a first cousin of Franklin Borsford, a marine artist of some celebrity. Miss Clayton was born and reared in New York. She is a descendant of some of the oldest and best families there. Her creation of the part of "Barbara Pomfret" on the New York stage was done under the most serious difficulties. Only forty-eight hours before she appeared for the first time in the role before one of the most critical audiences that ever assembled in the metropolis, she had the misfortune to fall from a horse while riding in Central Park, and sustained injuries from which she did not recover for several weeks. While she was essaying the role for the first time a physician and an "under study" were attending upon her in the wings to come to her assistance in case she failed, as was generally predicted, even by her dearest friends and greatest admirers. She was eminently successful, however, and was praised by the leading critics for her wonderful conception of the part.—Memphis Sunday Times.

PERSONALS.
Mr. F. G. Jones of Louisiana, is in the city.
Mr. J. L. Peterson of Marlin, is in the city.
Charlie Hurwood is at home again from an extended trip of some months.
Rev. W. W. DeHart is recovering from a severe indisposition, and is able to be out again.
Mr. Frank Grady Esq. has returned from Hillsboro, where he went yesterday to file suits in court there.
Mr. Frank Steiner, is recovering slowly but steadily from an illness of nearly two months duration.
Mr. J. R. Bennet, one of the proprietors and editors of the Plaindealer, has purchased a residence in Waco and will make it his future home.
We are glad to learn that Mr. A. McKenna, of Sanger Bros., who have been very ill with malarial fever, is recovering and will soon, it is hoped, be at his post again.
Col. James B. Baker, (we call him Col because he has earned the title by indefatigable work for Waco) is just home from a trip to New Birmingham.
The Misses Leoma and Carrie Cobb, of Wichita Falls, Texas, who have been visiting the family of Major Pierre, left this morning for home. The young ladies have made a deep impression on the young people of Waco and they will be sadly missed.

AFTERNOON NOTES.
The county court holds its next session on January 7th.
The lower floor of the court house is being cleaned, repaired and painted up.
All who are interested in the "Bible Character Study" entertainment, are requested to be at the Pacific hotel parlor to-night.
Tax payers are beginning to come into the treasurer's office and pay up the taxes of 1888. The time expires on December 31st.
In the district court to-day the case of the State vs. Fred S. Kuhn, charged in three charges of forgery and uttering forged instruments was on all day.
From the success met with this morning in getting stock for the proposed Canning factory and in assurances of interest in the matter, the prospects are bright that the factory will be started.
His honor Mayor Tibbs, presided over the police court this morning instead of Mayor Hinchman, who is in Dallas. Only one case was before the court a gentleman charged with shooting fireworks in manner and form against the ordinance provided.
Dr. Thomas and J. I. Moore, are fattening 100 heads of heaves on corn and sweet potatoes, for which there is no sale this year and are utilizing them for fattening purposes for which they are nearly as good as corn. The potatoes were raised on a patch of ground of about twelve acres.

Mr. John F. Marshall, trustee of the Eaton & Guinan property, is again in possession as well as Mr. Eugene Early, both having given bond for same. Other attachments have been issued to-day, but not served, or served subject to previous writs.
The state school money to pay teachers has just been received from Austin, and teachers holding vouchers may now step up to the captain's office at the court house and present them. The voucher is now in the indicative mood present tense, and the captain will pass the money over the counter to them.
The old land case of Hauriek et al vs. Hauriek et al, trespass to try title, is again before the United States district court, Clark and Goodrich for plaintiff, and King, of Houston, for defendants. The case involves eleven leagues or nearly fifteen thousand acres of land in Falls and Limestone counties, and has been before the courts for thirteen years, and was last before the United States supreme court. Col. Hauriek and Mr. Ed. Gully are interested parties in Waco.
A fine mule, either escaped or was stolen from the O K wagon yard, on the night of December 4th. The mule is the property of W. J. Gassaway, of Robinson.
There will be services of congregation Rodef Sholem, to-morrow evening at the synagogue, 8 o'clock sharp.
A very sad death occurred last evening at the residence of Dr. S. A. King, that of Miss Maria Boyd Esely, of Clarksville, Va., but lived some time in Waco where she came to be with her brother, Mr. Fred B. Esely, for whom she was keeping house when taken ill. She was taken to the home of Dr. King for tender nursing and care, but her illness proved a fatal one. Miss Esely was a young lady of lovely character and disposition, and leaves many friends to mourn her untimely death. The funeral services take place this afternoon at 4 p. m.

Non Est Inventus.
The young gentleman who yesterday broke the tenth commandment first, and then the seventh by first coveting Mr. Hutchenrider's $95.00 and then taking it, has not been found up to the hour of this writing, though diligent search has been made for him by the officers. He has, in the language of Cicero or George Elliot, disappeared, escaped, broke away. He traverses now, not the path of moral rectitude, but the crooked cattle paths of the Tehuacans, and will strike a railroad, on the bosom of which he will float in a few days into the quiet haven of Dallas or Houston, when for a few days he will be able to strut, cock of the walk, and drink barrels of beer. Mr. Hutchenrider asked him for bread and he gave them the shake; he left him to heat up the oven, and instead he made it hot for Mr. Hutchenrider; he should have made the bread raise, and instead he made a raise himself, and struck out for the yeast, leaving Mr. Hutchenrider's cake all dough. Mr. Hutchenrider would loaf to catch him.
